Shirley And Mate Cut Cake

Climaxing the reception which followed their marriage in the Wilshire Methodist Church, Shirley Temple and her husband, AAF Sgt. John Agar, Jr., cut their wedding cake. The reception was held under a tent on the lawn of the Temple estate. The 500 guests were all friends, many having worked with the bride when she was the nation's No. 1 box office attraction as a child star. The newlyweds left on a brief honeymoon before the bridegroom returns to his post at Geiger Field, Wash.

Army Discharge Points Cut Sharply

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Congress today the Army will abandon its point system for discharges by late winter and all men with two years' service will be released then. At the same time the Army chief of staff advised a joint Senate-House session that the present discharge score of 80 points—based on credit for service, combat and dependency—would be lowered to 70 by Oct. 1. Another cut to 60 points will be made Nov. 1.

At the War Department, additional details on the point score were announced.

The discharge score for enlisted WACs will be reduced from 41 to 36 on Oct. 1 and further reduced to 34 on Nov. 1.

With the exception of medical officers, male officers of all grades, including warrant officers and flight officers, will be eligible for discharge effective Oct. 1 if they have 75 points. The score for WAC officers will be reduced from 44 to 39 on the same date.

Medical department officers, including nurses, will continue to be released under a recently established separate system.

All of these new discharge scores will be based on V-J day computations of Sept. 2.

The Army announcement also said scores which determine an individual's eligiblity for overseas shipment are under study in the department and any changes "required to keep in step with new discharge scores will be announced in the near future."

Gen. MacArthur, Army chief in the Pacific, advised the War Department yesterday occupation force needs in Japan and Korea could be met with 200,000 soldiers plus one Marine division, Marshall disclosed. MacArthur previously had made a similar announcement in Tokyo.

Marshall made it plain more than 200,000 troops would be required in the Pacific as a whole, however. He said the 200,000 figure applied only to Japan and Korea, and that troops also were required for Alaska, the Aleutians, Hawaii, Formosa, and possibly in China.

Congress, he said, "apparently was disturbed" by an earlier estimate that the Army would number 2,500,000 on July 1, and that this would include 900,000 for occupation in the Pacific and 400,000 in Europe. He said these figures were estimates that had to be supplied in connection with the annual budget, and that later conditions would "give us a new set of figures." He did not amplify this.

Marshall said Gen. MacArthur first had requested 17 divisions, redeployed from Europe for duty in the Pacific, but had trimmed this estimate repeatedly to finally bring it down to two redeploy divisions. These already have been sent.

As a result of MacArthur's latest estimate, Marshall said, the Army yesterday cancelled the shipment of the 13th Airborne Division to the Pacific. This division was ready to move out.

High Nazis' Secret Story Of Jewish Pogrom Found

By DANIEL DE LUCE

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—The big shot Nazis' own story of their Jewish pogrom in 1938—told with scientific objectivity in signed letters and reports—has been recovered from the secret files of the Third Reich here.

These include official orders for the pogrom sent in advance to police and Nazi party formations. It includes the Gestapo's own summary of crimes committed against the Jews and is climaxed by secret judgments by the Nazi supreme party court in a handful of cases involving Germans' murder and rape of Jews.

By order of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering the cases were never brought to public trial.

The most severe punishment meted out by this Nazi court, sitting in Munich, was to deprive 33-year-old Heinrich Frey of party membership for having raped Ruth Kaltar, 13-year-old Jewish student.

This, the court held, was an infraction of the "racial purity" law.

The files showed the blood bath of Reich Jewry was prepared at the Brown House in Munich, party shrine, with Hitler's deputy, Rudolph Hess, and his propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, present.

Goering was kept advised of measures for the integration of the Gestapo, the state police and the Nazi party into "spontaneous" anti-Jewish demonstrations throughout the Reich.

In the face of the world's horror, top Nazis sought to hide their complicity.

The Nazi story begins with notes taken by the Gestapo of Goebbels' secret speech to 250 officials of the Berlin police, which launched the pogrom.

Five months after Goebbels' harangue, on Nov. 7, 1938, Ernest Vom Rath of the German embassy in Paris was assassinated by an obscure Jewish emigrant.

At 1:20 a. m., Nov. 10, Reinhard Heydrich, SS (Elite Guard) group leader in charge of all security police, sent a message over the national teletype network ordering anti-Jewish demonstrations.

It listed orders from Heinrich Himmler that:

1—German life and property must be respected—"for example, synagogue fires (are permissible) only when they are not a fire danger to the neighborhood."

2—"Businesses and homes of Jews should only be destroyed, not plundered. Police are ordered to watch over the carrying out of this order and seize plunderers."

3—"In business streets, it is especially necessary to observe that non-Jewish businesses are unqualifiedly secured against damage."

4—"Foreign nationals should not be annoyed, even if they are Jews."

German Trade Policy Agreed on

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Allied Control Council today agreed upon an export-import policy designed to treat Germany as a single economic unit.

The agreement set forth a 10-point program intended to hold German imports to a minimum and ensure suitable distribution of essential commodities among the four occupied zones.

Yanks May Wed German Girls

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Members of the Allied occupation forces in Germany may marry Germans provided the respective commanders in chief give specific permission. The Allied Control Council announced tonight this relaxation of the non-fraternization rules, effective Oct. 1.

Troops may visit in German homes and have normal social relations with Germans without specific permission.

JAPS HAD PHOTO—American sailors who boarded the phony Jap hospital ship, Tachibana, in the South Pacific last August seized a photo of Lauren Bacall, screen actress, according to word she received today. The photo is being sent to her.

Jobless Travel Allowance OK'd

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Senate voted today to pay the way back home for workers who lose the jobs they moved to during the war.

In the first Administration victory after two major defeats on the unemployment compensation bill, a vote of 65 to 14 turned back a move by Sen. McClellan (D.) of Arkansas to block the travel allowances.

REDS TURN BACK NEWSMEN

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—British Army public relations officers have protested to Russian authorities the arrest yesterday of two British correspondents en route from Vienna to Budapest.

FREEDOM'S KISS — Excited and happy over their release from Jap prison camps, Nurse Lt. Lolah Marshall, Baltimore, Md., and PFC Ernest Irving, Washington, D. C., go into a clinch when they meet in a Yokohama railroad station. PFC Irving also grips the American flag he made during more than three years' imprisonment.

Halsey's Fleet Heads for U. S.

TOKYO, Sept. 30 (AP)—Seventeen ships of Adm. Halsey's fighting Third Fleet steamed for home today carrying several thousand Navy men due for discharge, while Gen. MacArthur's headquarters disclosed Army occupation forces would increase to 400,000 before the predicted slash to 200,000 takes place. There are approximately 150,000 American soldiers in Japan now.

State Department expressions of surprise and concern at MacArthur's prediction three days ago on the size of the occupation forces drew another terse "no comment" from MacArthur today.

His staff officers pointed out his announcement of future reductions had clearly specified a probable force of 200,000 six months hence.

Troops will continue to pour into Japan through September, October, November and December until about 400,000 have arrived by the end of the year, they reported.

Jap demobilization meanwhile is proceeding so smoothly that approximately three-fourths of the homeland army has been disarmed and discharged in half the allotted time.

The 400,000 maximum occupational force, Army spokesmen said, does not include Marine units in Navy occupation zones or fleet personnel.

In Washington, Acting Sec. of State Acheson remarked sharply the United States government, not the occupation forces under MacArthur, is determining American policy toward Japan.

Another war-crimes suspect—the only woman on MacArthur's original wanted list—was taken into custody by the U. S. Eighth Army today. The woman, Lily Abegg, was allegedly linked with Tokyo radio propaganda.

The Tokyo newspaper Mainichi reported three more Japs on MacArthur's list had been arrested, Col. Akira Nagahama, former commander of gendarmerie in the Philippines; Shigeru Osanai, former civilian official at a Japanese prisoner of war camp, and Sgt. Seichi (Gunzo) Miura, guard at the same camp.

Adm. Halsey was expected to join the fleet at Pearl Harbor for its triumphant return to the United States. Adm. Nimitz also will make the homeward journey.

Famed 43d Due To Return Home

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—43d Infantry Division veterans of the Solomons, New Guinea and Luzon battles will return to the United States soon, Gen. MacArthur announced today.

The 43rd, originally a New England National Guard Division representing Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, and Rhode Island, came overseas in October, 1942.

Commanding the group is Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Wing, Rutland, Vt.

Low point men will be screened out before the return, and high pointers of other divisions will be added.

82d Airborne Quits Berlin Oct. 15

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—The 82d Airborne Division will start home soon. It is to be replaced Oct. 15 for Berlin occupation by the 78th Infantry Division.

The 82d, which took part in three land and four airborne operations in North Africa and Europe, relieved the Second Armored Division in Berlin Aug. 1.

Corregidor Nurse Meets Navy Rescuer: Hug, Kiss

CAPT. BETH VELEY AND MM 1C RALPH WARD
Corregidor Nurse Meets Rescue Sub Crewman

When a heroine of Corregidor meets one of the submariners who rescued her and other nurses two days before the Fortress fell, she does not extend a limp hand and say, "How nice to see you again."

It calls for a resounding kiss and a bear-hug, as Capt. Beth Veley, Army nurse, of San Jose, Cal., demonstrated at Camp Myles Standish, Taunton. The party of the second part, who returned the kiss with commendable whole-heartedness, was MM 1C Ralph Ward, crew member of the famous submarine Spearfish, the rescue vessel that risked its metal hide to save the nurses.

Ordinarily machinists' mates do not go around kissing Army captains and it was the first time in the history of Camp Myles Standish that such an intriguing departure from custom had been observed. But Army officers grinned appreciatively as Capt. Veley and MM Ward went into their happy clinch.

The nurse arrived from Europe on the Army transport George W. Goethals yesterday. MM Ward had seen a photograph of the returning Capt. Veley in the Daily Record. He came into the Boston American offices and told his story. He was a little hesitant. He said he was pretty nearly sure she was one of the nurses the Spearfish had rescued—but he wasn't positive. The point was, he wished he could see her in person.

It was arranged. Not long after the nurse had arrived in Taunton, MM Ward was headed for the camp in an American photographer's car. Nurse and sailor were brought together. Their mutual recognition was instantaneous—with the aforesaid spontaneous result.

MM Ward gave her all the "scuttlebutt" about others of the Spearfish's crew. She brought him up to date on the other nurses. It was an animated session of reminiscence.

Capt. Veley had gone on from the Corregidor epic to distinguish herself in the European theater. She came home with seven battle stars, an array sufficient to impress many of the beribboned soldiers who were on the Goethals with her.

Ward and the Spearfish had gone their perilous ways underseas, to survive everything the Japs could throw at them.

The sub had taken 13 women off Corregidor and its crew held their heads in mock anguish when the number was disclosed. Thirteen women in a submarine! But they proved to be a lucky number; 11 Army nurses, one Navy nurse and the wife of a naval officer constituted just so many four-leaf clovers on that dangerous voyage under the noses of the Japs.

Imogene Has Dated Stork, Friends Hear

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., Sept. 20—Connecticut society, buzzing with all kinds of rumors about Imogene Stevens, had a new and exciting tidbit to mull over today. She is going to have a baby.

Imogene herself could not be contacted to confirm the rumor. She was supposedly in seclusion at the Fairfield Beach home of her husband's parents, but the blessed event report has gained wide credence.

Mrs. Stevens, who allegedly killed Seaman Albert Kovacs, returned only last week-end from an extended visit with her paratrooper husband, Maj. George Ralsey Stevens, 3rd, at the southern camp where he has been stationed since his return from Germany.

Her arraignment and trial will probably take place in October when a heavy docket facing the court has been cleared.

NEAR DROWNING — Carol Bruce, Hollywood film star, narrowly escaped death from drowning at Atlantic City where she was entertaining wounded vets. The filmstress became tired while swimming beyond her depth.

Shirley, Flier Start 7-Day Honeymoon

By RUPERT HENDRICKS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (INS)—Shirley Temple and her bridegroom, AAF Sgt. John Agar, Jr., 24, began their brief honeymoon today. Married at the Wilshire Methodist Church last night, the young couple embarked upon a seven-day motor trip, at the end of which Sgt. Agar will report back to Geiger Field, Wash.

After he returns to camp, Shirley will make her home with her parents pending completion of conversion of her playhouse into a French provincial type home.

While the simple double-ring Methodist marriage ceremony, performed by the Rev. Willsie Martin, was witnessed by only a few hundred guests chosen from among the friends and families of the couple, thousands of persons jammed the vicinity for a glimpse of the famous star and her bridegroom.

As Sgt. Agar and his 17-year-old bride appeared at the front door of the church following the marriage rites, watchers surged through rope barriers, toppling news photographers from an improvised platform.

For five minutes the mob milled about the church steps, out of control, before hastily-mobilized reinforcements could re-establish the spectator lines.

From the church the couple went to the Temple home for a reception at which the guests included California's Gov. Earl Warren and many of the top figures of the film industry. For two hours the young couple stood under a canopy in the rose garden of the home shaking hands with and receiving the well wishes of their approximately 500 guests.

The ceremony marked the climax of an engagement announced last April. At that time Miss Temple said the marriage would not take place for several years, but when it was learned that Sgt. Agar soon would be sent overseas, the decision to wait was abandoned.

The couple's attendants as they exchanged vows before a white altar surmounted by a golden cross were Jack Temple, brother of the bride, and his wife, Marian.

George Temple, Sr., gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Temple wore a wedding dress of white satin, designed by Howard Greer. It had a fitted bodice, short sleeves and Little Infanta skirt, held out at the sides by panniers. The low round neck was closely studded with seed pearls, and seed pearls were scattered over the bodic.

The train was full and long, and the headdress was a small crown of corded satin wired in loops from which a silk net veil fell below the waist. She wore wrist-length gloves of self-satin which were scalloped and embroidered with seed pearls.

The bride's going-away suit was a dove-gray hard-finished wool with plastron front of powder blue Lyons velvet. She wore a blue velvet beret with gray veil.

Mate to Probe WAVE's Death

The Dorchester husband of attractive WAVE Mary Dunn McDermott, whose broken body was found floating in the bay beneath the Golden Gate bridge in San Francisco, is being rushed from his Navy post in the Pacific to the West Coast to aid in the investigation of her mysterious death.

This was disclosed here today by Daniel J. McDermott of Walk Hill st., Dorchester, father-in-law of the victim. McDermott's younger son, Ens. George E. McDermott, and the pretty 23-year-old WAVE were married last Dec. 2 after a wartime romance.

The Dorchester man, a retired immigration inspector in Boston, said he had been in contact with Navy officials who informed him that the Navy was assuming full control of the investigation.

Mrs. McDermott was last seen by an acquaintance "walking casually along" the span last Saturday. Her battered body was found by an Army sergeant at Ft. Baker.

Marin County Sheriff Walter B. Sellmer said there was no apparent motive for suicide.

The WAVE, daughter of Maurice J. Dunn of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., was a visitor at the McDermott home in Dorchester shortly before her marriage, her father-in-law said.

Meanwhile, the clothing of the wife of another Navy ensign, found in a cove, led police to believe another woman—the third in recent days—had met death in San Francisco's Golden Gate.

The clothes were identified as those of Mrs. Jeanette Chrysler Curley, 20, formerly of Grinnell, Ia., whose husband, Ens. Robert G. Curley, is aboard the USS Missouri. She left the home of her in-laws Tuesday, saying she was going swimming.

The third woman, Mrs. Helen Goree of Berkeley, plunged to her death from the bridge yesterday.

Finds GI Hubby Is Married Dad of 3, Asks Annulment

Supported by testimony of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hazel I. Huwe, 30, of Commonwealth ave., Brighton, today sought an annulment in Suffolk Probate Court from Frank Huwe, 36, accused of going off to fight the war for two different wives.

The petitioner told Judge Robert G. Wilson, Jr., that she learned that her husband was married before and had three children, only when the government wrote her and demanded back $800 she had received in allotments. She said they were married at Lebanon, N. H., in 1941 and had lived in Boston together until he was inducted April 29, 1942.

The soldier's mother, Mrs. Louise Huwe of Webster ave., Chelsea, testified her son had a wife, Ethel, and three children in Everett. She said he had married the first time in 1931.

Judge Wilson said he could not grant the annulment until Huwe is served with papers. He now is serving in Russia.

Total Strikers Reach 210,000

By Associated Press

Disputes along the nation's labor front, which for more than a week have kept the strike idle around the 200,000 mark, spread today, taking new groups of workers away from their jobs.

New York stoppages during the last 24 hours hiked the army of idle to about 210,000 and threats of additional strikes in the oil industry indicated a new high for the summer would be on the national total before the end of the week.

There was comparative calm in the labor-troubled Detroit area, where some 80,000 workers are idle, but there apparently was no letup in the CIO oil workers' movement to strike in efforts to attain their demands for a 30 per cent increase.

More than 13,000 oil workers were off the jobs in Texas plants while in the Chicago area five plants employing nearly 4000 were closed.

CIO oil workers solicited support from non-striking members of the Standard Oil Employes Assn, independent union representing some 4500 of 5100 employes at Standard of Indiana's huge refinery at Whiting, Ind., last refinery still operating in that area.

Other oil workers had joined the strike movement in plants in the Detroit area, and in Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia.

In Detroit, General Motors Corp. indicated 25,000 more workers might be laid off before week's end because of a shortage of parts.

During the last 24 hours 2600 were idled at the Nash-Kelvinator plant in Kenosha, Wis., and 3500 shipbuilders in the New York metropolitan area struck over holiday pay and seniority.

HASH MARKS APLENTY—M-Sgt. Carl Rosenstock, Brockton, came ashore from the S. S. Kingston Victory at the Army Base today with an armful of hash marks. Rosenstock served overseas in World War I, and has been in the Army for 29 years.

Girl Attack Jails 3 Needham Boys

Testimony by a 16-year-old Needham high school girl that two boy pupils and an older youth criminally assaulted her in the shadows of the school building, while two other youths, each 15 years old, held her helpless, brought Shirley School sentences to the trio and suspended sentences to the pair, in Norfolk Superior Court today.

Convicted by a jury of criminal assault were: Thomas J. Gaughan, Jr., 16, and Donald E. White, 15, both of Linden st., Needham, and both high school students, and Warren E. Riley, 17, of Pickering st. former member of the Merchant Marine.

Judge Edward Broadhurst gave them indeterminate sentences to Shirley and a scathing lecture on morals, a talk which was also directed to the other Needham youths. The latter were William F. Malone, 15, of Rybury Hillway, and Frederick E. McCray, 15, of Chestnut st., who drew suspended sentences.

Warns U. S. Against All Cartel Pacts

American firms must be kept out of cartel agreements for the sake of the nation's economic welfare and military security, Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Wendell Berge declared today at an employment conference at the Boston Center for Adult Education.

"New industries are essential to a virile, competitive economy," Berge said at the conference sponsored by the Boston Committee for Economic Development and the Wellesley Summer Institute for Social Progress.

Navy Wife Admits Kissing on Dates

An admission that she "kept company" with a married man and kissed him "once in a great while" when her husband, Lawrence E. O'Shea was in the Navy, was made in Salem Probate Court today by 23-year-old Mrs. Gloria O'Shea of West Baltimore st., Lynn.

Mrs. O'Shea, seeking custody of her 2-year-old daughter, Maureen, testified under cross-examination she also drank with the married man, but thought it was all right to go with him as he was not living with his wife.

She agreed she knew the man in question was the father of two children, and admitted that his wife had complained to her about keeping company with him.

The married man, who was not identified, was in court with his wife during the proceedings.

O'Shea was discharged from the Navy last December, and his wife testified that when he came home he accused her of going out with other men, and took the baby from a home in Saugus where it was being cared for.

She said he also slashed their furniture and in a restaurant slapped her when she inquired about the child's health, and also slapped her girl friend who intervened.

Under cross-examination Mrs. Shea admitted she drank "moderately," mostly beer, but occasionally a drink of whisky.

She admitted having dates with the married man, a fellow employe at the Lynn General Electric.

She went to Boston to the movies with him on one occasion, Mrs. O'Shea testified, and drank with him in cafes, but denied her husband had caught her "mugging" and kissing the married man in a cafe.

Mrs. O'Shea told the court there was "no romance" involved, but they "just had a good time together." The case is continuing.

Young Robber Gets Leave To Give Blood to Sick Sister

Ordered held in $20,000 for disposition of his case Oct. 8 after he had pleaded guilty to seven robbery indictments, Robert Kennedy, 28, of Dresden st., Jamaica Plain, blurted out a plea to Judge John E. Swift today for lower bail so he could give a blood transfusion to his sister.

"Her name is on the danger list at City Hospital, your honor," Kennedy said, "and, if possible, I'd like to have the bail reduced so I can go to her."

"I can't reduce the bail," Judge Swift informed him, "but if her case is as serious as you say there's no reason why arrangements couldn't be made to take you there under guard."

Kennedy indicated he would be satisfied with such an arrangement.

He and Joseph G. Burkard, 28, of Fremont ave., Roxbury, had each entered pleas of guilty on seven robbery indictments, including the holdup of a North Washington st. upholstery concern Aug. 3.

They and Gregory Goolishian, 23, of Foster st., Brighton, pleaded not guilty of conspiracy to rob. Goolishian was released in $5000 bail, while Judge Swift set $20,000 each in the cases of the others, resulting in Kennedy's dramatic plea.

Police told the court two other men, one a State Prison parolee and the other on parole from Concord Reformatory, still were being sought.

Belmont Buried Non-Residents, Judge Declares

Several non-residents have been buried in Belmont Cemetery since 1939 when the commissioners restricted the ground to residents, Cemetery Commr. George L. Foster admitted in Middlesex Superior Court today.

Foster was a defense witness at a hearing on the bill in equity brought by Mrs. Laura F. Lalley of Belmont seeking to prevent interference by the commissioners with the burial of her sister-in-law, Miss Lucy Lalley of Allston.

He made his admission after Judge Francis J. Good said he had attended funerals of non-residents in Belmont cemetery.

Town Counsel Amos L. Taylor sought to explain the nonresident burials by saying the survivors "may have claimed the deceased was from Belmont."

"I would be shocked if the people I am referring to had misled the town in any way," replied Judge Good.

Taylor suggested that the instances the judge mentioned might have been a widow or widower being buried beside a husband or wife.

"I may sound prejudiced, but I attended the funeral of a man whose wife I know is alive and both lived outside of Belmont," declared Judge Good.

Foster, testifying that "under special conditions and when there would be no burden on the town" burial of non-residents has been permitted, admitted no special notice was sent to non-resident plot owners when the restriction was voted. He said survivors were told of the ban when they applied for permission.

Foster also testified his records showed the Lalley plot was purchased by the late Ernest R. Lalley in 1920. He said Lalley's father, John H., was moved into the lot from a Cambridge cemetery in 1921. Also buried there are Lalley's brothers, William and Ernest Lalley.

Miss Lalley died Aug. 22. Judge Good has the case under advisement.

Riot Gun Raid On Beacon Hill

With a dramatic display of riot guns and revolvers, a score of officers today surrounded a West Cedar st. house on Beacon Hill and arrested Joseph Trolia, 23, of Greenwich st., Dorchester, in connection with the shooting of Joseph Baressi, ex-convict and boxer.

Trolia was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to murder and authorities set bail at $50,000 pending his arraignment in East Boston district court tomorrow.

Jos. Trolia

The suspect, clad only in pajamas, was trapped while attempting to flee down a fire escape. He surrendered without a struggle.

Also taken to headquarters for questioning was another man and a 24-year-old girl, both found at the Beacon Hill dwelling.

The raiders, who blocked all possible exits, were led by Capt. Frank Sliney of East Boston, Capt. Francis Tiernan of Joy st. station and Lt. James V. Crowley of headquarters.

Baressi was shot down by a single bullet as he sipped a midnight highball on Sept. 4 in an East Boston cafe. The gunman walked from the bar, tossed his gun into an alley and vanished.

City Hospital doctors say Baressi has an even chance for recovery. The bullet lodged near the spine, causing paralysis.

Police believe the shooting was connected with gambling stickups in Revere and other North Shore communities.

Labor Shortage Halts Road Plans

The State's postwar highway program cannot begin until spring due to manpower shortages, State Public Works Comr. Herman A. MacDonald told Gov. Tobin today at a conference with officials from Worcester County. Plans call for $125,000,000 worth of construction annually.

One of the first roads to be completed will be Route 2, linking Concord and Fitchburg via Ayer. The Governor said he would seek War Department approval to build the highway across federal property at Ft. Devens.

MacDonald said crossing Devens would save the State nearly $1,000,000.

Wellesley Girls' Togs Go Feminine

By PAULINE WARREN

Marking a new era, the first crop of freshmen to enter Wellesley College since war ceased descended upon the campus today, 406 strong, and in fashions reminiscent of pre-war days. Townspeople, weary of looking upon sloppy shirts hanging out over dirty dungarees, gazed with delight as the new young ladies arrived on trains from every state, flawless in their well-cut tweeds.

"Why—that's how pretty girls SHOULD look!" exclaimed a busy baggage master as he struggled to extricate their luggage from a mountain of more than 500 trunks, 300 handbags and 100 bicycles.

College representatives welcoming the new students also seemed enchanted at the prevailing air of elegance.

Five attractive girls made the trip together from Milwaukee, looking like a Hollywood delegation.

Checks, particularly in brown and white, were most popular. Jean Hoff and Madge Carpenter wore them, each with a tiny brown felt hat and brown accessories.

Martha Fraser sported an Alpine gray suit trimmed with green, while blonde Alice Newbury wore pencil-striped gray tweeds, and Alice Eells wore a forest green suit.

Another wearing green with tan accessories was titian-haired Martha Cheek of Lexington, Ky.

Signe Gundersen of LaCrosse, Wis., wore a trimly tailored suit of larkspur blue, while Wynn Mason of Evanston, Ill., wore a similar suit in pale green.

Some of the students chose black, relieved with bright color, such as a pencil slim black frock worn under a vivid canary yellow or geranium red coat.

Another peace fashion note was the wearing of hats — the majority of students wore them over long bobs.

There was not one fancy hair-do or sleekly-sculptured chignon in the four hundred. Hair was parted on the side or in the middle and curled softly around the face.

Stylish Freshmen Arrive at Wellesley to Begin Postwar Sessions

Old YD Outfit Lands Here With Battle Record

The 212th Field Artillery Battalion, former Massachusetts National Guard unit, an old YD outfit, came roaring home from the wars today with an unchallenged record for consecutive days of combat in the European war so far as American soldiers were concerned.

Commanded by Lt. Col. Melvin S. Welch of Pilgrim rd., Marblehead, the New Englanders poured off the SS Kingston Victory at the Army Base as three other transports followed and a fifth was due late today.

There were fighting men of the famous Sixth Armored Division of Gen. Patton's Third Army, heroes of the Battle of the Bulge. Waiting at the dock to bid them welcome and sing their praises was Col. Michael J. Galvin of Wenham st., Jamica Plain, G-3 operations officer of the division.

Col. Galvin, who had returned by plane, said the 212th had one period of 221 consecutive days in combat, then five days of rest, followed by 100 more straight days of battle.

He said the record was unequaled in the Eastern Theater of Operations.

The division as a whole netted 61,864 German prisoners, 5000 of them in a 10-day dash from Avranches to Brest, a 250-mile advance.

Another ship to land soldiers was the S.S. Lake Charles Victory, with 1956 aboard, including 136 New England men. A third, the S.S. Nathan Towson, brought only 29 passengers, five from this area. The fourth, the S.S. Francis Harrington, carried but 23 passengers, only one of whom was a New Englander.

Due late today was the S.S. William and Mary with 1948 men, of whom 150 are New Englanders.

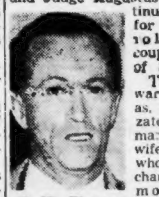
Tote Man Tells How He Swindled Downs

Brought back from Maryland, a former Revere horse and dog track employe and his blonde wife pleaded not guilty in East Boston District Court today to larceny and conspiracy in connection with pari-mutuel tickets.

No testimony was given in court and Judge Augustus Loschi continued the case for one week, holding the couple in bonds of $5000 each.

They are Edward W. Thomas, 39, a totalizator repair man, and his wife, Elaine, 21, who authorities charge cashed more than $3000 worth of tickets at Suffolk Downs which never were paid for.



E. W. Thomas

Under police questioning, Thomas today sought to absolve his wife from all blame.

He told questioners he was working for $55 a week last July at Suffolk Downs when the swindle on winning tickets was put over. He said he simply "punched out" winning $50 tickets and turned them over to his wife to cash. But she did not know they were not paid for, according to his story.

Mrs. Thomas told a similar story. She said she thought the tickets had been bought by her husband.

MRS. EDWARD L. THOMAS
Held in Suffolk Downs Larceny

The alleged swindle was good for $3143, collected on 24 tickets.

Warrants for their arrest were issued Aug. 11 in East Boston court on complaint of the American Totalization Co., Inc., which operates the tote boards at every race track in the country.

Thomas was arrested at Waterloo, Md., and his wife in Baltimore. They were brought back to Boston in custody of Det. Insps. Paul Crowley and John Tobin.

Detective Crowley said Thomas had gone to the tote room at Suffolk Downs at 5 a. m. on July 25 and obtained the secret code letter to be used the following day, then cranged out tickets on the eighth race.

To make sure of collecting, according to Crowley, tickets were punched out on every horse in the race.

Officials said the swindle was discovered when a checkup disclosed that more money had been paid out on certain races than had been bet.

Boston Bandit Gang Hunted

A wave of robberies and handbag snatchings which netted bandits and thugs $692 and a $75 wrist watch resulted today in the capture of one suspect and search for a bandit gang.

One holdup victim, Henry Marcoux, 39-year-old discharged overseas veteran, of Reed ct., Cambridge, was brutally beaten and left unconscious in his wrecked car by two armed thugs who robbed him of his watch and $39.

Two store holdups in Brookline and Brighton within a few hours were blamed on another set of armed bandits.

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Greek regent, Archbishop Damaskinos, said today Greece wished to hold elections "as soon as possible," but he was unable to say whether the voting would take place this year.

Use Dry Ice to Battle Fire

LEOMINSTER, Sept. 20 (AP)—Five hundred pounds of dry ice were packed in a coal pocket at the Leominster High School today in an attempt to extinguish a fire burning since Monday.

Principal Dwight Davis authorized the experiment by Elmer J. Bucknell, head of the high school chemistry department, as a possible solution of the fire problem.

Firemen said they could put out the fire by flooding the basement of the heating plant, and the city street department began the alternative plan of hand-trucking 130 tons of coal into the school yard.

Bucknell said he thought the combination of the low temperature of dry ice—which is 132 degrees below zero—and the fact it gives off carbon dioxide as it evaporates, would chill and smother the fire.

So today, as firemen stood by, and highway workers hauled coal, dry ice was packed into the coal. Bucknell said he hoped for results by night.

MODERN ARABIAN KNIGHTS

There are some 58 in all whose modus of getting around are quite a bit removed from the days of the magic flying carpet, but who for producing wonders that are as realistic as the legendary wizardry of an old Arabian Knight's Tale probably has no equal. Modern Arabian Knights, of course, refers to Filene's Basement's famous corps of 58 bargain experts who are perpetual globe trotters (covering the markets of the world before the war) and they literally leave no stone unturned in tracking down these star-spangled bargain lots that have made this unique store world famous. What other store would dig down in a ship's hold and come up with as choice a treasure as ever sold on a store counter (you remember the famous "Queen Mary" stock that made bargain history)? Who else would dare to buy 400 baby carriages from a fire stock and then do a mass selling job by selling them in one day? Then there was the retail store stock in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, bought in one of the worst blizzards in history — the scoop from the World's Fair, handbags from the French Pavilion — stock of line luggage from the Mining District in Pennsylvania — pottery made out of melted Chinese coins — exhibitors' collection of gifts from the Home Furnishings Show — Fashion model gowns used in a California style show — the big retail store fire stock from Memphis, Tenn., when our buyers had to buy out a box factory to ship the stuff home — the suits of imported woolens bought from the New York custom tailor considered "the Tiffany" of the trade — imported Paris model gowns, the last shipment out of Paris when the war began — the store stock from far-away Hawaii — the imported French gloves from Bermuda taken off a French boat seized as contraband during the war — the noted David Alan men's dinner jackets and sport togs from Florida's Millionaire playground — Panama hats from Ecuador and many others too numerous to mention. Even some recent lots of imports have been Harris Tweed Coats, South African Capeskin Gloves — Handkerchiefs from Switzerland and Ireland — Arabian Mocha gloves and imported Scotch sweaters and even right now these Modern Arabian Knights are working on more and new sensational things, for here is an effervescent, ever luminous bargain show — a bargain Bagdad that whirls on and on.

Labels for Buddy Gifts Ready

The Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas campaign, conducted by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, moved into high today with the mailing of the first batch of labels giving names and addresses of Army, Navy and Marine chaplains who will distribute gifts from generous readers to our servicemen and women throughout the world.

Persons desiring to take part in this gesture to our victorious fighters are urged to send their requests for addresses immediately.

Gifts will be forwarded to chaplains this year instead of directly to a serviceman because so many in the armed forces will be traveling to new assignments or home by Christmas. The chaplains will distribute them to men and women in their particular outfits, taking special care not to overlook anyone.

Remember, there is less than a month in which to mail these packages of Christmas good will and cheer. The deadline for mailing all overseas Christmas boxes is Oct. 15. So start now to prepare your gifts. Fill out the coupon accompanying this article and you will receive in return the name of a chaplain to whom the gift will be sent for distribution.

Boxes must not weigh more than five pounds or measure more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It is absolutely necessary that all articles be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard. Each box should be securely tied with strong cord.

Do not send intoxicants, inflammables, or objects easily broken. Each package must bear the name and address of the sender. Watch these columns for further instructions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Flames of 25 forest fires swept through forests and range lands of northern California today, adding to the estimated $3,000,000 damage done by 6500 separate blazes this year.

Yanks Safe In Jap Typhoon

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—American soldiers stationed in areas hit by Japan's latest heavy typhoon escaped serious injury, a check disclosed today by the Japanese Home Ministry said incomplete early reports showed at least 48 Japs killed.

The 100-miles-an-hour winds wrecked numerous American airplanes and barracks on the home island of Kyushu, in the center of the storm which also lashed at Shikoku and Honshu islands in its two-dage rampage. Communications with Kyushu and Shikoku still were cut today.

Firm Cancels All Soldier Debts

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—All debts owed by service men to the J. and B. Motor Supply Co. have been cancelled as a victory gift, the firm announced today.

The proposed plan will wipe out a total of $10,000 in debts owed by service men in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska and Wisconsin, Carl Ragnitt, vice president of the company, said.

"These men, before the war, purchased radios, auto parts, hardware, sporting goods and other items with the intention of making their debts good," Ragnitt declared. "The least we can do is show them they can start out in the postwar world without worrying about their debt to us. They have enough to worry about as it is."

Belsen Survivor Tells Horrors

By WILLIAM FRYE

LUENEBURG, Germany, Sept. 20 (AP)—A man who lived nine days on a pint of soup and a cup of water at the Belsen concentration camp told of cannibalism and the dragging of the dead to burial pits at the trial of Joseph Kramer and 44 SS guards today.

Harold Osmond Le Druillenec, a schoolmaster from the island of Jersey, who entered the courtroom limping upon a cane, was the witness.

Motion pictures showing the filth, degradation and starvation at the camp were shown in court today, the fourth day of the mass murder trial.

A British officer testified that he found a well-supplied German military food store less than two miles from the camp.

Annual Wage Plan Tried in Worcester

WORCESTER, Sept. 20 (AP)—Parker Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of tool products and wire goods, has launched an annual wage policy guaranteeing a minimum of 1800 hours pay annually to each employe with a record of five years continuous employment based upon the seniority policy of the company, it was disclosed today.

Any qualified employe failing to receive at least 1800 hours' work in any calendar year will be paid by the company, at the end of the year, an amount equal to cover the balance of hours not worked up to 1800, less any amounts received in unemployment insurance benefits, workmen's compensation benefits, sickness, accident and health benefits and wages received from other regular employment.

The company announced that "continuous employment" shall include any period during which an employe served with the armed forces, provided the employe returns to his job within 90 days after honorable discharge.

The wage guarantee will cease should the employe resign, be discharged for cause or attain the age of 65, or for any reason whatsoever should be fail to work at least 320 hours in any calendar year.

The guarantee benefits are limited for the present to those who were employes of the company March 1, 1941.

The judgment of the company shall be final on all questions arising under the guarantee, and the company may at any time modify or alter the rules or may at any time terminate the guarantee, although it expects to continue it permanently.

McCloy in Hub Lists 4 Vital Peace Points

A single department of national defense and universal military training were advocated today by Asst. Secy. of War John J. McCloy as vital to world peace.

In an address delivered before the Boston Chamber of Commerce, McCloy offered this four-point program of peacetime defense preparations:

1. Maintenance of scientific research that will continue to give American military forces the most effective weaons.
2. Universal military training.
3. Plans for swift industrial mobilization.
4. Development of military intelligence second to none.

Asserting internation co-operation, without the sanction and support of adequate force, cannot prevent another war, McCloy declared: "We must make the world recogniz e the United States is fully prepared to use force, if necessary, to help the United Nations organization prevent further war."

Modern weapons and the victory they achieve are the products of laboratory research, he said, and added:

"During this last war we were by no means always foremost in that field. Not only were our Allies fertile in invention, but sometimes the Nazis surprised us with new and superior weapons."

Instead of leaving scientific research to the lone scientist, he said, "there must be some clearing house in which all developments can be co-ordinated and applied . . . in some areas of research there will be need of government assistance to assure facilities and permanence. Nor can we permit individuals to control secrets that can menace our existence if they are permitted to leak out. They must be under the control of all the people."

The atomic bomb cannot be regarded as an invincible weapon that permanently guarantees our safety, McCloy said.

Nor has the atomic bomb removed the need for universal military training, he asserted.

"Air, land and sea supremacy—and the only absolute security requires all three—cannot be attained or maintained by dependence on a limited volunteer force unless that force can be certain of adequate trained reinforcements whenever the need for them arises," he said.

All-Time High In State Savings

Massachusetts savings banks' deposits have reached an all-time high of $2,700,000,000, a gain of about 10 per cent in the past year, President Charles J. Bateman, Jr., of the Savings Bank Ass'n of Massachusetts, announced today at the opening of the organization's three-day convention at New Ocean House, Swampscott.

"Savings banks are in a very liquid position and ready to finance a large volume of home building in the postwar years," he told the convention. "We are in a position to lend millions on home loans and thereby contribute to the prosperity of the Commonwealth."

He urged banks to initiate studies of large scale housing to abolish slum areas in cities.

Gunfire Halts Sailors' Joyride In Stolen Hearse

Two sailors who went joy riding in a stolen hearse were arrested by Lynn police today after a wild early morning chase during which three shots were fired.

S 2c Walter D. Peacock, 22, of Statesville, N. C., was arrested at gunpoint when police blocked the hearse's path with a cruising car. The other, S 1c Garland Shedd, 19, of Atlanta, Ga., was arrested when cornered by police investigating reports of a man attempting to break into a garage a few hours later.

In Lynn district court, Shedd pleaded guilty to charges of theft of two trucks, one containing $20,000 worth of shoes, after he fled from the hearse, attempted larceny of a third car and operating without a license. Judge Philip A. Kiely ordered him held in $1500 for the grand jury.

Peacock, charged with larceny of the hearse in Everett, was arraigned in Malden district court. Judge Elbridge G. Davis imposed a six-months' suspended sentence but revoked a previous suspended sentence of three months for misappropriation of an auto and sent the sailor to the house of correction for that term.

IN THE DARK

DR. ROBERT GORDON SPROUL, president of the University of California, visited Russia recently as head of the advisory committee to the United States Delegation to the Allied Reparations Committee, and was favorably impressed by the friendly attitude of the PEOPLE of Russia toward America.

The only obstacle to increasingly friendly relationships between the United States and Russia, Dr. Sproul observed, is that the Russian people do not KNOW very much about the American people.

The reason for their ignorance about America, he said, is that the Russian government purposely keeps them in the DARK about events in the United States and about the way of life of the American people.

Reporting to six thousand students of the University of California, Dr. Sproul said:

"I am convinced the Russian people are ready and eager to like and trust the American people.

"I only wish their government would LET them."

He confirmed a fact previously reported by all competent and honest American observers in Russia, that information concerning the United States has been held to a minimum in Russia by the government-controlled press.

The great danger in this situation, he concluded, is in the fact that to a considerable extent:

"The fate of the world depends on whether the Soviet government, not the people, chooses the road to peace or war."

Dr. Sproul expresses confidence that the Russian government will ULTIMATELY choose the road to peace because, as he says, "it is a safer and better road."

But it is yet to make the choice.

There are many essential paths along the road to peace.

ONE OF THEM IS THE FREE EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION BETWEEN FRIENDLY AND PEACEFUL NATIONS. ANOTHER IS FREE ACCESS TO INFORMATION WITHIN EACH NATION BY THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PRESS OF OTHER NATIONS.

STILL ANOTHER IS THE FREEDOM OF PUBLICATION WITHIN EACH NATION.

The Russian government is persistently avoiding all of these essential paths.

It has not permitted unrestricted entry of the press representatives of friendly nations into Russia or into Russian-occupied territory, and it has not given free access to the sources of information to the few who have obtained entry.

As Dr. Sproul and many others friendly to Russia but honest in their reporting of conditions there have observed, the Russian government withholds the right of free and honest publication from its own press.

But the Russian system of government and way of life are such that it is unimportant what the people think.

LIFE-SAVERS

MOBILE X-ray units of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health discovered 1500 cases of tuberculosis in this State in the past two years, 600 of them previously unsuspected.

Most of the sufferers were encouraged to obtain treatment and thus avoided prolonged incapacity and probably death.

There should be free X-ray examinations for all communities and for every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth.

Last year tuberculosis killed six hundred thousand persons in the United States and seventeen hundred in Massachusetts.

At least 75 per cent of the deaths were unnecessary because they might have been prevented if the victims had learned of the infection in time to receive prompt treatment.

The Department of Public Health should have more mobile X-ray units.

Each of the larger cities should have one or two.

They are LIFE-SAVERS.

"AND SO, my Fellow Countrymen, today I report to you that your sons and daughters have served you well and faithfully with the calm, deliberate, determined fighting spirit of the American soldier and sailor. Based upon a tradition of historical trait, as against fanaticism of an enemy supported only by mythological fiction, their spiritual strength and power have brought us through to victory. They are homeward bound—take care of them."—Gen. Douglas MacArthur in speech to people of the United States, following Japanese surrender aboard U.S.S. Missouri, September 2, 1945.

AMONG THE innumerable things that are not what they used to be is the lowly nickel. Not so long ago it would buy you an ice cream soda, a large glass of beer, a cup of good coffee, a large piece of pie or admission to a movie show. Still even now the nickel should not be too greatly despised. It will buy you a ride on the subway in New York, a telephone call, a newspaper or a refreshing soft drink. I, for one, continue to have considerable respect for the old jitney. In Canada the nickel is still considered important. The race tracks there "break" to the nickel. New York race track owners ignore the nickel as something only treasured by the peasantry. They do not wish to be bothered in making change that includes nickels. They break to the dime. Consequently, a turf fan who should be paid $4.95 for a winning ticket is paid $4.90 and therefore deprived of a nickel and of many usages to which it might be put, some of which were mentioned above. More of this anon.

HORSES & WOMEN: The records continue to reveal an astonishing number of women of thirty or over are marrying men in their early twenties. Ilka Chase, commenting on this situation, says the younger men like the mother-wife-mistress combination so often found in women in their thirties. She further states that men age faster than women. Also, that men cannot resort to the many methods of appearance rejuvenation which are available to women. Thus the average woman of 45 usually appears to be ten or 15 years younger than her husband. Looking younger she begins to feel younger. Therefore it would be better if, in the first place, she married a man ten or 15 years younger so they will always look and feel the same age. There may be something to what Ilka says. But before commenting on it, I have instructed our Horses & Women and Mules & Men Departments to make a thorough study of the situation.

On the other hand, a wife will think twice, maybe three times, before divorcing a mate who is a good dancer."*

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—"The Boys," a patronizing name for the American fighting men, are coming home to learn that one of the benefits bequeathed to them by their late commander-in-chief, Mr. Roosevelt, is unemployment decreed by a handful of his political henchmen who did not go to war.

Westbrook Pegler

One of the reasons frankly stated for the total deferment of many of them was that they were indispensable to the industrial war effort. Ostensibly, they exerted themselves to prevent strikes and other stoppages and delays in production.

But even though they were excused, and notwithstanding the no-strike pledge to Roosevelt shortly after Pearl Harbor, thousands of strikes did occur.

For the benefit of the union political auxiliary which was collecting hundreds of millions of dollars from the tax-payers by way of the workers' pay envelopes and using part of it to support Roosevelt's party, they constantly misrepresented the actual number and effect of such strikes. A strike was not a strike unless a strike had formally been declared.

THOUSANDS OF walkouts and slow-downs which were "unauthorized," therefore were not included in the statistics of the government nor were "epidemics" in which, by coincidence, all the employes on a given job became sick of a mysterious malady, unknown to medical science, which could be cured only by a raise in pay or an adequate supply of strawberry soda for toilers whose morale suffered from the monotony of lemon.

Moreover, even in the cases of recognized strikes, the hours lost as reported to the public were only the idle hours of the strikers, themselves. The idleness imposed on enormously greater numbers in factories which could not operate for lack of key materials was not counted as a strike loss.

Only by the most fastidious mathematics could it be determined whether the United Auto Workers of the CIO had the worst record of nonperformance and nonfulfillment. Nevertheless, it prospered as a robust political war baby and now, with "the boys" coming home, and re-employment, reconversion and the resumption of commerce lagging from governmental neglect, the Ford Motor Company has been forced to lay off 50,000 workers and retard the production of vehicles which "the boys" will want to build and sell and buy, because another company, manufacturing gears for Ford, had refused to re-employ four men discharged for throwing two foremen out of a factory.

EVEN THE Roosevelt War Labor Board had upheld the gear company in this refusal and the U. A. W. had denounced the strike at the gearworks as "unauthorized." Nevertheless, it was a REAL STRIKE and the Ford company, after long patience with the provocations of union disturbers during the war, seized the opportunity to throw on the union responsibility for a flagrant and possibly tumultuous interference with the immediate ambition of most war veterans to get back to work, earn money and drive a new car.

Since the war began, Ford had given in to the U. A. W. on every front. Henry Ford, Sr., stunned his rivals when he gave the union the closed shop but explained that he did it for two reasons: 1—To prevent bloodshed by political mobs such as terrorized Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania in the organizing campaigns of the CIO and, 2—To maintain production for the war.

Throughout the war, nevertheless, the management had been impaired by threats of great troubles over petty complaints, and by recognized, in fact vaunted, immunity of unions to penalties for violations of law and contracts.

THE SAME U.A.W. is threatening to strike General Motors and throw 300,000 more workers out of jobs to win an increase of 30 per cent in wages, having ear-marked four million dollars for this contest.

This money came out of public taxes paid as war wages to workers whom the Roosevelt government compelled to join the union. Now this gift from Roosevelt may be used to keep returning veterans out of jobs not only in the motor industry but in countless other lines as the ramifications of a strike expand through interdependent activities across the nation.

The veterans, as taxpayers, if not immediately then in the future, will pay the cost of this treachery against themselves.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20—When the telephones rang with two "flashes" on Hedy Lamarr—one that she was "expecting" again—and the other that she was making two pictures immediately—I knew it had to be this or that! It's this—Hedy and John Loder are NOT expecting another visit from the stork. The minute she finishes "Strange Woman" for Hunt Stromberg, she starts immediately on Katharine Cornell's old stage hit, "Dishonored Lady," only Stromberg and Producer Jack Chertok have put their heads together on a new version—so new that Cornell, herself, won't recognize anything but the title.

Hedy Lamarr

Chertok happened to be at Arrowhead working on the new angle when Hedy arrived at the same hotel for a week-end. Jack, being a smart boy, started tossing around hints and ideas on the new treatment that had just the desired effect. Hedy wanted to do the 1945 "Dishonored Lady" and she's in.

* * *

SUSAN HAYWARD, who has always claimed she's never had the right screen story, need cry no more. Dorothy Parker and Frank Cavett (he collaborated on "Going My Way") are writing a special story just for Susie, which Walter Wanger will produce. With talent like this—Parker at the words and Cavett at the plot—who could miss? The title won't be along for a couple of days—but it's about a modern New York career girl in a postwar world.

* * *

THERE'S QUITE a story back of Archie Twitchell—or Michael Branden, as Paramount has just rechristened him. He had just signed a contract when he was drafted into the Air Force and for 22 months he served in North Africa and South America. Archie—or let's settle for Mike—contracted a rare blood disease, losing so much weight that for months he believed his screen days were over forever. He wrote the studio to that effect—but he reckoned without the marvelous Army doctors. Not only is Mike completely cured and honorably discharged—but he's taken up his contract where he left off with a role in Bing's "Blue Skies."

* * *

BETWEEN US: I would have bet Betty Hutton's engagement ring that David Selznick produced the original "Little Women"—but he moved off the RKO lot just as Merian Cooper and Kenneth MacGowan started the picture. Sorry. David himself called it to my attention. Charles Coburn, a little on the tired side of being cute on the screen, is shaking the Hollywood dust for Broadway after he finishes "The Green Years" . . . Roddy McDowall was gifted with a pipe and a tobacco pouch on his 17th birthday, but says he won't smoke until he gets his dad's official permission . . . Joe Schenck has taken over Anita Loos' beach house while she's East . . . Ken Murray is lunching with Cathy Downs between shows—and not with his ex, Cleatus Caldwell. The girls look alike . . . Preston Sturges has bought Joseph Hergesheimer's "The Three Black Pennys" for his California Pictures Co. . . . Guy Madison, who had just a bit in "Since You Went Away," rates 2000 letters monthly at the Selznick studios and is in fourth spot on a mag poll. Where'll he be after he gets a real part?

* * *

ALBERT LEWIN, who produced "The Picture of Dorian Gray" and who enjoys skidding around on thin movie ice, has a nod from the Hays Office to go ahead with De Maupaussant's highly censorable "Bel Ami." George Sanders, who was among those present in "Dorian," will be the star of "Bel Ami" but Lewin says they will miss the highly eccentric Albright twins—the artists who painted the pictures. Ivan reciently wrote Al: "There's about three years' more work on that horror picture to make is as revolting as I believe it should be." Well, in three years it will be time for a remake on "Dorian Gray."

* * *

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Bette Davis' ex, Ham Nelson, is in town on a short stopover—still in uniform; interesting group at Ciro's the other night had Sonja Henie at one table with Lt. Robert Stack and his brother, Jimmy.

Boston After Dark

UNTIL TWO newspapermen (Louis Sobol and Ted Friend) told her it was so, Sophie Tucker had not realized that she was an institution (and should write a book about herself) . . . Well, "institution" might be one way of describing the lusty North End native who is playing now at The Mayfair after a three-year sabbatical from Boston . . . Sophie certainly is accepted in the key cities of America as the top female entertainer in her line, which is singing songs—songs designed for adult ears, chiefly, and for the ears of adults who are free-minded enough to chuckle 10 times while they grimace but once.

* * *

"INSTITUTION" does not, however, describe La Tucker fully enough . . . That restaurant in New York where they parlayed a sandwich into an institution, according to the place's slogan, and various high-walled and grim pens for the herding of straying humans give the word too businesslike a meaning . . . Of course, Sophie is businesslike—she is now, that is . . . But she also is very gay and lively and rythmic and exhilarating.

* * *

WHEN SHE SINGS Irving Berlin's "Blue Skies" you yearn for the Florida sun (or L Street's) . . . When she sings "Shine On, Harvest Moon" you feel like breaking into song yourself . . . When she sings "Some One of These Days" you—why-er—you choke up a little . . . That is her artistry.

* * *

SOPHIE FARES WELL with all her numbers, including the "special material" written for her, partly by her talented accompanist, Ted Shapiro . . . A lesser personage than Miss Tucker would be escorted to the city licensing board's office for a serious talk if the character persisted in singing some of the songs which Miss Tucker employs to win belly-laughs from her adoring audiences . . . But with the vibrant, good-humored, infectious personality of Sophie making blue lyrics sound like simple little fables to music—all seems well.

* * *

SOPHIE KNOWS night club audiences, and gives them—obviously—what they want . . . One of the Tucker epics is a song about miscegenation which would make the mixed (and mixed-up) romance of "Strange Fruit" read like a page from Elsie Dinsmore or Tom Brown's School Days . . . It tells about a flower Sophie represents herself as having picked in the garden of love . . . Woosh! Or swi-i-ish!

* * *

THE MAYFAIR drew the largest opening night audience of many a season as Miss Tucker returned triumphantly to her native Boston . . . The verdict, expressed in cheers and shouts for "more," was an unrepressed yell demanding that long may she stay!

* * *

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Gov. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island could have added to his remarks at 'Gansett which included the comment that "racing forms a vital and integral part of the economy of the State" . . . The Governor could have said truthfully that the state's take from the race track amounts to approximately 20 cents of every dollar received in taxes . . . Ruby Newman and his associates have bought Seiler's Ten Acres, where Vaughn Monroe won early renown.

MAJ. NEAL LANG, who once was married to Martha Raye, is back from overseas with his English bride . . . Producer Joe Pasternak is currently frustrated because (of all things) the public appreciates his ability. His "Anchors Aweigh" film at the Capitol is such a solid hold-over hit, bidding fair to establish a long-run record, that "Her Highness and the Bellboy"—which Joe considers "the sweetest picture I've ever produced"—can't get a chance to get out of the coming attractions class at the Capitol, where it's due to follow "Anchors Aweigh" . . . Jane Froman is due in New York on the Queen Elizabeth any day . . . A big cigaret sponsor is angling for Tony Martin's services when he gets back from the wars . . . Producer Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures and his Joan are expecting their second baby. It'll be an early Spring arrival.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—One of the most courtly gentlemen in Congress is Rep. Lyle H. Boren of Oklahoma. He also tries to do a good deed every day in keeping with his oath as a national executive of the Boy Scouts.

Recently Mr. Boren went to Canada in his capacity as chairman of the House special committee to investigate the newsprint situation. Accompanying him were Reps. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio and Charles A. Wolverton of New Jersey.

One of their stops was Murray Bay, Quebec. Mr. Boren went out to inspect a couple of pulp mills, leaving his colleagues at the hotel.

The Messrs. Brown and Wolverton spotted a couple of fairly young women in the lobby. The ladies were not pretty; in fact, Mr. Brown described one as horse-faced and the other somewhat homelier.

Nevertheless they approached the two maidens who displayed no resentment at being addressed by strangers.

"Listen," said Mr. Brown, "would you charming ladies like a big evening—the very best of everything—food and entertainment—and absolutely nothing expected of you?"

The ladies replied they would be charmed. Whereupon Mr. Brown continued:

"Then here's all you have to do. You come into the dining room here at dinner tonight. There will be another gentleman with us. I will put the finger on him so you will know which he is.

"Then you come rushing over to him and say: 'Aren't you Congressman Boren from Okla?' He will say 'yes' and you will cry: 'Why, isn't this wonderful meeting you away up here—I am the daughter of Slim Tompkins from over in Pottawatomie County!'

"You will then introduce your beautyful companion here as Sarah Johnson, the daughter of Spike Johnson of Okfuskee county. And from then on the evening will be yours."

* * *

THE LADIES made their entrance on cue and proved letter perfect in their parts. Mr. Boren practically exuded hospitality.

"Well—well—well," he beamed. "Old Slim Tompkins' daughter? I know your father well. You may not know it, but Pottawatomie County happens to be in my district. Your father was one of my best supporters."

He handed practically the same to the other damsel, whose county strangely happened to be in his district, too. There are grounds for more than a suspicion that Reps. Brown and Wolverton were aware of this; they consulted a Congressional directory before concocting the plot.

Throughout the evening Mr. Boren lavished attention on the ladies. He was so gallant it hurt. He rose every time they rose; lit their cigarets, poured their drinks, and insisted—over the very mild remonstrances of Mr. Brown and Mr. Wolverton—on picking up the whole tab.

* * *

AT PARTING, Mr. Boren thanked the ladies for permitting him the never-to-be-forgotten pleasure of their company, adding:

"And don't forget to remember me to your fathers!"

"We won't," said the ladies.

* * *

NEXT DAY, unable to hold it any longer, Mr. Brown and Mr. Wolverton confessed it was all a gag; that the females were not from Oklahoma.

"Nonsense!" said Mr. Boren, "such charming ladies could only be from Oklahoma!"

AS I HAVE stated in previous columns, Sen. Alexander A. Wiley of Wisconsin is America's No. 1 cheese rooter. He makes laudatory speeches on behalf of cheese—and particularly Wisconsin cheese—at the churn of a whey.

The other day he entered into this fascinating cheese debate with Sen. Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire as follows:

MR. WILEY: Mr. President, I was just called to the telephone and informed that OPA has taken the ration points off cheese. It looks as if happy days will soon be here again, and I hope it will be my privilege ere long to see that my fellow Senators will be privileged to sink their teeth into some vitamin rich, luscious, aromatic Wisconsin cheese, let it be Cheddar or Swiss or blue, brick or other brands produced by that great State.

MR. TOBEY—Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

MR. WILEY—Certainly.

MR. TOBEY — Is that a threat, or a promise?

MR. WILEY—I never make threats to a fellow Republican. Once in a while I may threaten when I am talking to a New Deal Democrat, but not when I speak of cheese, that is too pleasant a subject.

It is the stuff, sir, which you, of New Hampshire, need to nourish that fine working brain of yours and to put a little added vitamin into your blood corpuscles.

THE STRING ensemble will now play Wiley's Fifth Rhapsody in Cheese.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—Am writing this in behalf of my boy friend, discharged from the Navy 18 months ago. He did not collect his mustering-out pay at time of discharge. Is it still eligible? F. M., Boston.

A—Yes, make application through Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Mustering-out Pay Division, Cleveland, O., if discharge is honorable.

Q—Could you please tell me what the following abbreviation means. Btry C—776—A.A.A. B'n. Is this outfit en route home? L. M. P., So. Boston.

A—Address signifies Battery C, Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion. Unable to answer the last part of question. They have not been on the lists thus far as having sailed for home.

Q—Could you tell me if I am eligible to receive the Good Conduct Medal? Served in the Army nine months and was discharged under honorable conditions. Conduct was excellent during that period. Have been informed that I am entitled to such medal. A. P., Rindge, N. H.

A—No, you are not eligible. Must have served at least one year in service during wartime for such honor. In peacetime it is three years.

Q—My son signed up in the Navy for duration and six months. This was only last month. Will he be discharged at the end of six months or will he have to have a year's training now that the war is over? N. A. L., Boston.

A—In the first place the war is not officially over until Proclamation by President after ratification by Congress. When war is proclaimed ended your son will be eligible for discharge six months afterward.

Q—I am being drafted within a few weeks, would like to know if I will be eligible for veterans' benefits etc.? E. K., Dorchester.

A—Yes. All persons entering armed forces will receive such benefits providing they get in 90 days of active duty before Presidential proclamation ending war.

Q—My husband is serving overseas in the Naval Construction Battalion. Will he be able to take Civil Service exams? If so, where may he get information regarding above? What bonus does a Seabee receive when discharged from service after 18 months overseas? A. E. H., Roslindale.

A—Your husband is eligible for civil service exams and will be entitled to veterans' preference. This information may be obtained upon his return at Federal Employment Bureaus or Civil Service offices, both federal and state. I don't know of any bonus being paid Seabees. Only bonus in effect now is the $100 state bonus being paid Mass. veterans.

Q—My brother has been overseas nearly three years. His outfit is about to sail home and he has got into trouble and now a prisoner. Will they send him back to this country when his outfit sails? F. M., Framingham.

A—That is a tough question to answer. It depends on violations committed. If it is minor infraction and placed in guardhouse, given company punishment, most likely return with outfit. If offense serious, he will travel home with other prisoners and placed in confinement in the States. Let's hope it is the former.

Gifts Pour in on 3 Doomed Brothers

SALISBURY, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—The three teen-age Pinion brothers, each incurably disabled by muscular dystrophy, enjoyed the bounty of new well-wishers today as their widowed mother clung to the hope of a "miracle" to save her sons from an early death.

A huge home-made chocolate cake, ice cream and $100 were among gifts bestowed upon the youths yesterday after newspapers told of their illness.

Physicians say there is no hope for the brothers—David, 19, Billy, 15, and Lloyd, 12. They give David only a year to live. Each has suffered with the rare disease since he was 10.

The mother, Mrs. D. E. Pinion, was as bewildered and delighted as her sons with the flow of gifts and messages of good cheer.

The $100 was a gift from the Salisbury Lions Club. Churches here have set aside next Sunday as a day of aid for the family, and business firms are arranging to refurnish the Pinion home.

Britain to Buy Only for Cash?

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express predicted today Britain would buy nothing 'on the slate" from the United States and Canada.

"The government has decided to buy food in preference to every other form of commodity in America," said the paper's political writer, Guy Eden. "An acute shortage of currency has forced the decision, which means that Britain must do without almost everything that involves spending dollars."

Maine Plans Super-Highway

AUGUST, Me., Sept. 26 (AP)—A "new front door" to boom Maine's $108,000,000 recreational industry will be one of the State's postwar projects.

Gov. Horace A. Hildreth, discussing the State's outlook with the return of peace, said today that construction would begin next spring on a new superhighway to enable Maine to "compete for our share of the recreational business."

"This front door," the Governor explained, "will be the first section of a 500-mile Kittery to Ft. Kent superhighway, a 50-mile four-lane stretch costing $13,000,000 and to be paid for by its users without costing the State a penny."

Epes Murder Trial Halted As Ex-College Mate Faints

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Trial of Lt. Samuel C. Epes of Richmond, Va., for the slaying of his pretty, auburn-haired wife, was thrown into temporary confusion today when one of his former college mates fainted in the courtroom.

A 10-minute halt in the proceedings came after a youthful-appearing friend o fthe 27-year-old defendant collapsed near Epes as a prosecution witness said Epes had made only an "alleged attempt at suicide."

Identified by court officers as John E. Griggs, the tall blond man fell from the chair in which he was seated immediately behind Epes at the defense table.

The lieutenant jumped to his feet in the first display of emotion he has shown during the four-day trial, ut quickly was calmed by Leith Bremner, Epes family attorney, assisting in the defense.

Maj. Frank Milligan, Fort Jackson doctor who treated Epes for throat and wrist gashes shortly before Epes led officers to his wife's grave, was on the stand.

"The main vessels in the neck were not damaged in this alleged attempt at suicide," Milligan testified.

Milligan also identified as "a poison, given only by prescription," the sodium seconal capsules with which the state charges Epes overdosed his wife before burying her.

Under cross-examination, however, he testified the container was not labelled "poison," but as "habit forming."

Dog Plasma Saves Terrier

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dodie, an overseas soldier's 8-year-old fox terrier, which went AWOL in a railroad station here last June and then lay starving in an 11-foot deep hole in an abandoned ice house for more than two months, was on a train bound for California today, her health restored.

Dodie was being taken to Yuba City, Cal., last June by Mrs. John H. Ramsden of Newport, R. I., who had received word her soldier husband was coming home from the Philippines. Dodie escaped from an express truck.

On Aug. 26, John Zierdin discovered the dog in the pit and turned her over to the Anti-Cruelty Society. Director W. A. Young said a license tax dissuaded him from destroying the dog and he began the seemingly futile task of retoring Dodie to health.

She was given transfusions of dog blood plasma and Dr. Young said her recovery "bordered on the miraculous."

Cutting Delivery Mileage in Half Saves You Money . . .

s s s and that, Mrs. Milk Customer, is just simple arithmetic. In the course of a week, with Every-Other-Day Milk Delivery, the mileage of our trucks is tremendously reduced. The obvious savings thus resulting (with income benefits to labor), have made it possible for us to hold Milk prices down to present levels in the face of much greater nationwide price increases in essential foods. Had we been able to institute Every-Other-Day Delivery in prewar days, it is highly probable that we could have actually reduced Milk prices. Cheese Popular

By MARTHA LEE

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that all varieties of cheese have been removed from the ration list is good news indeed, for cheese has become a very important ingredient in the main dish of family meals. Cheese sandwiches are as popular as cheese with pie. Cheese may be used in sauce for vegetables, or it may be added to casserole dishes to improve their flavor and nutritive value.

Serving cheese is also an excellent way to add to the milk intake of children and adults.

VEGETABLE MEDLEY

Cook separately one small head cauliflower broken in small pieces, and 1 cup each of peas, diced carrots, and diced celery. Place in casserole in layers. Melt 2 tbsp. butter or margarine over low heat or hot water; add 3 tbsp. flour and blend well. Add 1½ cups milk; cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add ½ cup grated cheese; stir until melted. Season with ½ tsp. salt. Pour sauce over vegetables; top with buttered crumbs. Bake at 350 deg. F. for 30 minutes. Make 6 servings.

SALMON CASSEROLE

1 1-lb. can salmon
½ lb. cheese 1-3 cup milk
2 cups prepared biscuit flour
¾ cup milk

Flake salmon and place it in a casserole. Slowly heat the cheese and 1-3 cup milk in the top of a double boiler, stirring occasionally until cheese is melted. Pour this sauce over the salmon.

Mix the biscuit flour and 3-4 cup milk. Toss onto a floured board, knead lightly, roll and cut into biscuits. Cut each biscuit in half, and place the halves around the edge of the casserole. Bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) until the biscuits are done and lightly browned.

A new main dish which combines cheese and eggs in handsome and delicious style is a Luncheon Puff. Cream cheese, that mild luscious favorite of diners, is combined with eggs and piquant seasonings to make this a particularly appealing first cousin to a souffle. The dish is light and airy in appearance—but possesses a formidable array of food values to commend it as the main dish of a meal. Both the eggs and cheese supply necessary protein in sufficient quantity to satisfy hungry appetites. The finished dish is tempting enough to please any epicure on grounds of flavor alone.

The Luncheon Puff is delicious served with corn on the cob, broiled tomatoes, or any other late summer garden special.

LUNCHEON PUFF

3 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
1½ tsp. salt Broiled tomatoes
½ tsp. dry mustard
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk 6 eggs
Cooked corn on the cob

Blend the cream cheese, salt, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Gradually add the milk, stirring constantly. Add the beaten eggs. Blend well. Pour into a shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 30 to 35 minutes, or until set. Serve surrounded by broiled tomatoes and corn on the cob.

CHEESE DUMPLINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE

1 can condensed tomato soup, and
1 cup water Salt and pepper
2 cups prepared biscuit flour
1 cup grated American cheese
1 tbsp. grated onion
¾ cup milk (about)

Heat the tomato soup, water and seasonings. Lightly mix the biscuit flour, grated cheese and onion. Add milk to make a soft dough. When the soup is boiling, drop in dumplings from a teaspoon. Cover closely and cook slowly 20 to 25 minutes. Do not uncover during the first 20 minutes.

Fashion

THE LOOK that every fashion smarty craves is reflected in this chic model of wool jersey . . . with muted stripes of gray and white . . . that forms the top of this one-piece sweaterdress by William Bass. Tiny silver buttons march down the front . . . and a gay young peplum in front does fine things for the hips. The skirt is of black crepe . . . R. M.

Take Inventory of Skin

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

YOU'D THINK THE MIRROR could tell a girl all she wanted to know about her skin beauty or lack of it, now wouldn't you? That she doesn't have to be a member of the royal family of intelligentsia to appreciate the scientific fact that accumulations of stale makeup may sap the skin's vitality . . . for all she'd have to do is to look at her skin to know that!

Yet sometimes we wonder how many girls take a reflected inventory of their skin condition before jumping into bed . . . and accept as basic knowledge the fact that ordinary cleansing will not remove makeup completely. Superficially, yes . . . but scrupulously, no! Too often a slap dash is all the face gets when the day's activities are ended and it is time to go to sleep. And too often the consequences reach dire proportions and then the girl yells for assistance.

We unmask our molars with vigorous brushing in rigid pursuance of a ritual that's as precious as the smile which reveals them . . . yet do we unmask our faces from their day's makeup with as much interest? If you do, pardon our intrusion. Our words are directed to that increasing contingent of forgetful females who aren't doing right by their pretty little pug noses et al . . . although in our book every gal is eligible for this new pore flusher.

And for them we have news of a completely new and different kind of makeup remover . . . one which works on a new principle to flush makeup from pores, which bye-the-bye is a facial boon for any face that is cosmetically enhanced at any time. After long research, special oils with remarkable penetrating qualities were discovered . . . and using these precious oils, the creators developed a cream that instantly melts into clogged pores to ease out foreign accumulations. We've found that one application removed even the heaviest makeup . . . with no danger of lingering residue.

It's old stuff to tell you that a skin not properly and regularly cleansed may grow coarse, dry, rough . . . take on the telltale marks of age . . . but it is new stuff you'll find in this unveiling makeup remover that turns back the clock for your facial loveliness to smoother softness and honied-like touch, for this is a new, scientific way.

For the name of this pore-purging makeup remover, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PURGING the pores of stale makeup is a job far beyond the ability of an ordinary cream and one for a new and scientifically compounded makeup remover cream that's just come on the market if the complexion is to shine as brightly as the pearly teeth we prize and which Warner Star Peggy Knudsen so attractively illustrates.

Fancy Coats Need Care

By BETTINA BEDWELL

COATS, both fur and cloth, are a lot less held down and simple this season. They are apt to run to gigantic or otherwise fancy sleeves, and they tend to sprout collars and otherwise get fancy. They are very nice in themselves, but you can ruin your body-scape very easily when you wear such a coat and fail to unclutter the rest of your clothes, your hair and so forth.

Begin at the top and work firmly to keep everything else clean and simple looking if your coat is fancy. Don't wear sloppy veils and dripping stuff around your hat.

Kaye, Clinton Sundberg, Lawrence Fletcher, Ralph Cullinan, Jan Sterling, Rex Williams, Henry Lascoe, Annette Erlanger, Theodore Leavitt, Gordon Nelson and Kay Loring . . . Direction of "The Rugged Path," which is in two acts and 15 scenes, is by Captain Garson Kanin

Hard on the heels of her spectacular revivals of the plays of Will Shakespeare, Margaret Webster has turned her directorial hand to yet another classicist, Emile Zola . . . "Therese," which is remaining a third week at the Plymouth, beginning Monday evening, is based on the great French realist's novel, "Therese Raquin" . . . Eva La Gallienne, Victor Jory and Dane May Whitty are starred in the principal roles.

Miss Webster has been so industrious in her translation of the Bard that there has grown up almost an entire generation which can't distinguish between her and the Avon's greatest playwright

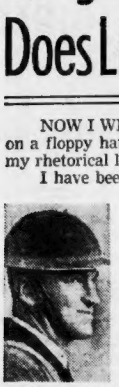
Congress Talks Much, But Does Little for Overseas GI

By AUSTEN LAKE

NOW I WILL PRETEND I am a Congressman and put on a floppy hat and common people's clothes and stick out my rhetorical lip. There is no end to the fun I have!

I have been reading the Congressional Record of Sept. 17 in which the distinguished gentlemen of the House spent the entire session debating how best and quickest to bring our overseas soldiers home and discharge them to civil life. The Congressman, one and all, went into paroxysms of distress over the plight of their imperishable heroes, who so devotedly did their duty, and now deserve to be restored instanter to God's green land and the welcoming arms of their loved ones. As oratorical persiflage it was magnificent. But as honest sentiment it was just bagpipe music to soothe outraged ears.



Austen Lake

So now, as a pretended Congressman, I will rise and address the chair, to wit and viz:

"Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to proceed for four minutes!" The Chair will intone, "Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from 5 Winthrop sq.? There is no objection." And I'm off—but only slightly!

They Could Settle the Question NOW!

MR. LAKE—MR. SPEAKER, I have heard the profound oratory of this distinguished body on the subject of repatriating our overseas servicemen in all possible haste, including the many quaint panaceas for same. I note with gratification that each and every member of this august assemblage is heartily in favor of demobilizing our veterans with instant dispatch.

That is excellent ear-music Mr. Speaker! But I challenge the sincerity of this great deliberative conclave, or that it wishes to do more than etherize the parents and soldiers of its constituencies with an eye to feeding them ear-syrup and winning votes.

Because, Mr. Speaker, the illustrious gentlemen have the power to restore these veterans to their civil status with what I choose to call "immediate promptitude." They know that! Which is why I say today's fountain of persiflage is just bagpipe music. All this august body needs to do, NOW, to insure the return of every inductee within a reasonable time, is to ratify the surrender of Germany and Japan and vote the "period of emergency" at an end.

Should Congress choose to do so, the contract under which our military holds these veterans would terminate within six months. Their enlistment clause stipulates that agreement—"For the duration plus six months."

Mr. Speaker, I will presently offer such a resolution to this eminent gathering and ask the clerk to poll the members on their disposition. I wish to place on record the statesmen who have bled so magnificently today for our cherished heroes, to pin down who votes "Yeah" and who votes "Nay." But first, in anticipation of the concern of those scholarly members for the necessary manpower to replace those veterans now occupying conquered countries, I will offer a supplemental resolution. Admittedly, we must replace the AEF soldiers with enough men to safeguard our authority abroad.

So I offer a companion motion that the Selective Service immediately draft, as required, the millions of able-bodied men who during wartime held occupational deferments in essential war industries and thereby enjoyed the benefits of high wages, the comforts of normal life, absence from battle dangers and hardships, fresh-cooked foods and tranquil leisure.

This Would Equalize the Sacrifice

WITH A LITTLE RESEARCH, Mr. Speaker, I would find that millions of these deferred war workers fall within the military age group, are single and physically fit. True, they contributed splendidly to the national war effort by creating essential machinery which helped make the victory possible. They deserve our thanks. But the essentiality of their work no longer exists and they have had the benefits of the fat, prosperous, stay-at-home years of stimulated industry at no risk, while the veterans were denied their placid, well-paid opportunities and were taken willynilly by the forces at low rates of pay when on the threshold of productive life.

I therefore recommend that the Selective Service induct such non-essential, ex-war industry workers to replace our soldiers and sailors who now are equally non-essential to the service, and thus share the "equality of sacrifice" among all our citizens.

My motive, Mr. Speaker and distinguished gentlemen, is to afford the unessential ex-war worker an opportunity to serve his country as conscientiously and loyally as did the veteran, during the next period which I might call "postwar emergency, plus six months." This would open the door to our returning heroes to fill industrial opportunities and, conversely, enjoy the fruits of good wages, tranquil living and the many blandishments they have been denied.

I feel certain the celebrated gentry of this chamber will agree that such an arrangement is not only mutually fair, but solves the dilemma of troop replacement and equal work opportunities. Just as unquestionably, the former war workers will recognize and welcome the justice of this measure and gladly consent to assume their share of the nation's service burden, which they, and especially the United Auto Workers and affiliated unions who are now striking for shares in premature profits, have so often harangued on the subject of fair distribution and equality of the common effort. As true-blooded Americans they will welcome this chance to practice their own philosophies.

That is all, Mr. Speaker! But in closing I wish to attract your attention to the phenomenon that, even while I speak, the membership of this august body has gradually dissolved singly and in clusters. They seem to have found sudden business elsewhere in the various hidaways of the capitol. A quorum no longer exists! Can it be, Mr. Speaker, that they do not wish to associate themselves with such direct action? Or are they only playing leapfrog with the overseas veterans. Hey, Mr. Speaker?

Polio Hits Winthrop Grid Player; Game Off

Infantile paralysis struck the schoolboy football ranks again today for the third time in as many weeks with a 15-year-old regular lineman of the Winthrop High School eleven reported a victim of the disease. Discovery of the ailment resulted in an order quarantining the entire squad and its coaches and cancelling of tomorrow's scheduled game with Marblehead High, which had been under quarantine since one of its backfield players was stricken more than two weeks ago.

Arlington High School's football squad was ordered quarantined last Saturday and its opening game with Medford that day cancelled when one of its backs was found to be a victim of the ailment.

Arlington also cancelled a game scheduled for tomorrow with Newton High School.

Leslie L. Dunham, acting headmaster at Winthrop High School, said the latest schoolboy victim had complained Tuesday of feeling ill and had been sent home from school. Later he was removed to a hospital where his ailment was diagnosed as infantile paralysis.

Under the quarantine, members of the squad may continue practicing together but will be unable to attend classes. They are hopeful the quarantine may be lifted in time for their next scheduled game a week from tomorrow.

Handle Hits New High At Great Barrington Fair

By JACK CONWAY

A trip through the Berkshires . . . Motoring over the mountain roads above Springfield as a blazing red sun set behind distant peaks . . . Darkness setting in as I reached Great Barrington where Eddie Carroll is staging his annual fair featured by six days of horse racing.

Greetings from Jimmy Joyce at the Berkshire Inn . . . Log fires in open fireplaces giving the place an air of hospitality . . . baskets of apples and popcorn on table in lobby for use of guests . . . Dinner with Johnny Moran, a walk down the main stem of the town and then back to the Inn.

Eddie Carroll

Near-hurricane winds roaring through the Berkshires in the morning . . . An early morning visit to the half-mile track at the Fair Grounds where I met Bob Frend, Jimmy Picarillo and Jimmy Hickey . . . Hickey lives in Great Barrington, and he is already planning to go to New York to see Notre Dame play the Army . . . Finding out from Hickey that Great Barrington, situated in the Berkshires 725 feet above sea level, is a Notre Dame town.

Racegoers refusing to remain at home on account of windstorm . . . Eddie Carroll telling me that 3500 persons paid to attend the races and that the mutuel handle was $129,510 which was up over $35,000 against the same day a year ago . . . Grandstand and other parts of racing plant dolled up for the opening.

Many persons from New York and Connecticut at track along with residents of Massachusetts . . . Albany is only 54 miles, parts of Connecticut a mere 10 miles away . . . Many wealthy people at track accounting for the big play at $10 windows . . . These people usually attend races at Saratoga and now come to Great Barrington rather than making long trip to New York City.

$1000 for a Chef

Evidences of prosperity among Fair crowd . . . Hotel man telling me he pays his chef $1000 a month, pays $400 to $600 a month for cooks and $10 a day for dishwashers . . . Declaring that hotels and inns have been doing a boom business since early June and that fall closings will be later than usual.

Al Lombard, formerly connected with the State Department of Agriculture, in charge of the exhibition of cattle at the Fair . . . Prize cattle under tents . . . A sudden cry that the powerful wind is about to lift the cattle tent . . . Crew of 20 workmen rushing to scene . . . some of them holding down side of tent as wind pulled at it, while others secured the tent with additional stakes . . . Lombard saying that next year he would have a barn for the cattle and that he would not be concerned with even hurricane winds.

Dinner at the Berkshire Inn with Eddie Welch and Johnny Moran . . . Meetings with Larry Lane, secretary to the Massachusetts Racing Commission, Chief Inspector Frank Mullen and Auditor George Donahue and Frank Parle . . . A hello from Dick Finnegan, Dan Carroll, Arthur Burnett, Joe O'Brien, Ernie Sparrell and Mrs. Sparrell.

Dick Brussie, local insurance man, saying storm would last for another 24 hours . . . Wondering where to go as the stores along the main street started to close around 9 p. m. . . . Horsemen telling what a fine rider J. Andino, Portuguese star, has been on the half-mile circuit . . . Jockey Wright checking into town to ride again after two years in the Army . . . Telling me he was twice wounded while in Italy.

Prize Oxen Compete

Another day at the track with high winds and a spitting rain . . . Racegoers betting $108,000 for a new second day record . . . Being interviewed over Dan Healey's WBRK radio program . . . Dan has been in charge of the sports programs over the Pittsfield station for several years and does a fine job . . . having a thorough knowledge of sports and the enthusiasm of youth . . . Sharkey, the seal, answering a few questions over the radio and refusing to give his selections on the Great Barrington races.

Dinner at the Berkshire Inn and then back to the Fair Grounds with Johnny Moran to accept Bricey Nash's invitation to see the ox pulling contest . . . Watching team of oxen drag 12,000 pounds . . . Six-foot drags are necessary to keep in the running . . . Discovering Massachusetts-trained oxen can bite off a six-foot drag without too much effort, but that Connecticut oxen balk at this distance.

In Connecticut it is only necessary to score a one-foot drag to remain in competition and so their oxen have become softies . . . Sitting in the rain for an hour as a crowd of 500 watched ox competition, and remarking that I have never sat out in the open and watched a ball game under similar adverse conditions . . . Reminded me of the night in Philadelphia Al Nickerson, Dave Rosen, Billy Hamilton, Gus Rooney and myself got drenched as we watched Gene Tunney win the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey in the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium.

A chat with Harry Storin, publicity director of the fair . . . Harry telling me that Harry, Jr., who has served three years with Gen. MacArthur's forces in the Pacific, will soon be on the way home . . . Harry, Jr., is in the infantry and has seen all kinds of tough fighting right up through Luzon.

Gold Dust Twins Map Golf Layoff

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 20 (AP)—The "Gold Dust Twins" of pro golf said today they had played in so many tournaments they needed a rest and were going to take it after they finish their current tour of the Northwest.

Jug McSpaden, who tied a course record yesterday practicing for the $10,000 Esmerelda opens, starting today, explained that he was in a slump.

Byron Nelson, who has won 17 tournaments and $53,000 in War Bond prizes to lead the parade this year, added that "after two years of solid tournaments I'm getting so I don't care about the next shot, or the one after that."

When they finish with the Seattle tournament, Oct. 14, Nelson said, he and McSpaden are going on a hunting trip in Canada.

McSpaden estimated that he and Nelson have traveled 150,000 miles together in two years.

157 Candidates Out For Brookline Team

By MIKE GILLOOLY

There's a very suspicious calm about the Brookline Town Field—a calm that could hint that there's about to be a grid explosion when Coach Harry Downes' high school football team swings into its first game of the season Saturday afternoon against a power-laden Wakefield outfit.

Everything's too peaceful on this gridiron which, like Gaul, is divided among the varsity, junior varsity and freshman squads—totaling 157 boys. And just possibly this "farm" system will be paying off big dividends this season.

"We've been getting along pretty well this fall and I think the team will develop into a clever club," says Coach Downes. "For the most part, the boys are all in good condition. We've had a few minor bruises, colds and so on but nothing serious that will retard the progress. Right now, the kids are anxious to get into a real game and I'm just moving along slowly so that they won't leave their 'game' on the practice field."

Brookline will have only three veterans from the first team that set a merry pace in the Class B race for over half the schedule last fall. But Coach Downes feels that all three are top-notchers who will steady his club down to a satisfactory campaign.

Capt. Tom Donahue will be back at right tackle; John Kirrane will take his place at left end and the offensive ace of the team, Harold Moffie, will be passing, kicking and running from left halfback berth. And Moffie, in all three departments, spells plenty of trouble for the opposition (as was evident from that lengthy boot, covering 92 yards, against Newton last fall).

Moffie's running mates will be Dick Johnson, 170 pounds, at quarterback; Johnnie Grant, 155, at right-half, and either Joe Meehan, 152, or Tommy Taylor, 154, at full. Meehan and Taylor are moving up from the junior varsity but Johnson and Grant saw some service last season—enough, at least, so that they won't be complete strangers in this opener Saturday.

Brookline's line will average only 161 pounds but Coach Downes will have it fighting every inch of the way. Capt. Donahue and Kirrane will be the mainstays in spite of their 155 pounds. John Caulfield will be at the other end with Emil Fisher, 170, on the other tackle. Pete Coyne, 164-pound junior, and Bernie Noymer, 165-pound senior, have clinched their places as guards with Ed Sexton, 160, at center.

Noymer, incidentally, only arrived in this country six years ago from Germany but he's shown enough ability to rate a starting call.

Brookline's spares will include: Ends—Bill Bennett, Bob Fay and Roger Aechelman; tackles—Allen MacDonald, Hugh Mullin and Joe O'Connor; guards—Dan Silva, Bob Kingston, Walter Burke and Oscar Wasserman; centers—Dick Graham, a transfer from B. C. High, and Walter Rich, and backs—Murray Pearlstein, Silas Dunce, Jim Robison, Bill Blair, 198-pound junior; Al Williams, Lou McGarry and Henry Hart.

That "farm" system, incidentally, has Clem McCann, ex-BCH, with the junior varsity now and Tom Fitzgerald working the frosh, alone, until an assistant can be appointed. Frank Ball is Coach Downes' assistant.

Brookline's schedule, after Wakefield, Here: (at) Quincy, Sept. 29; (at) Weymouth, Oct. 5; Watertown, Oct. 13; Rindge Tech, Oct. 20; (at) Fitchburg, Oct. 27; Belmont, Nov. 3; (at) Cambridge Latin, Nov. 10; Newton, Nov. 22, and there's a possibility that this objective contest may be shifted to Newton.

Louis May Retire If Conn Drubs Him

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis says he'll retire from the ring if Billy Conn beats him bad enough when the pair finally get around to their title meeting.

"It all depends on how I lose," declared Sgt. Joe here. "If it's a close fight and I lose, I'll fight a rematch. But if I lose badly and I figure it's because I'm too old, I'll retire."
